

Space-Efficient Contemporary Condominium Family Bathroom

ASDA22-80460

Design Concept

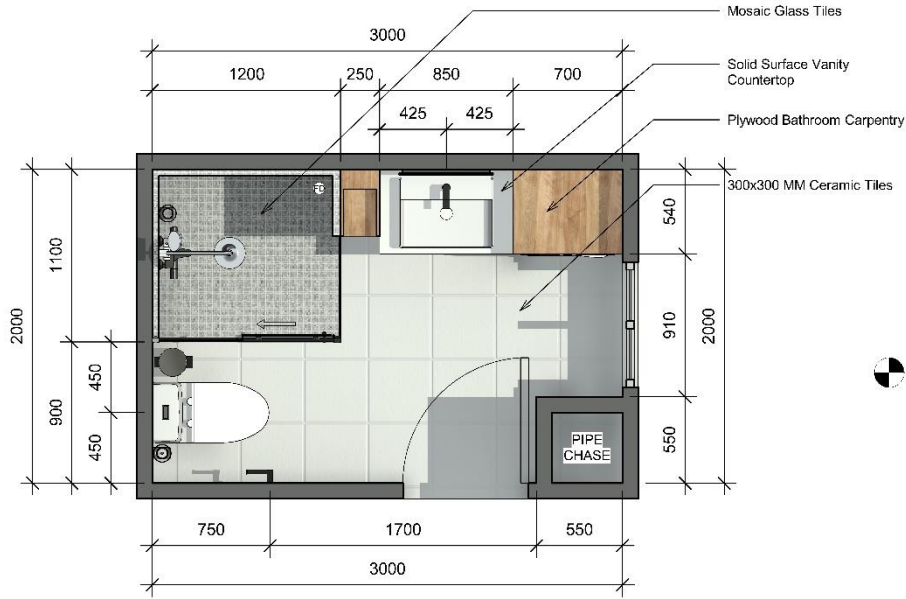

This contemporary condominium bathroom is designed space-efficiently to provide the users a multi-functional room that caters different bathroom and hygiene chores more efficiently. Although the room is narrow and limited, the circulation of activities in the room is efficient.

This condominium bathroom also designed daylight-efficient that can help reduce energy during the day.

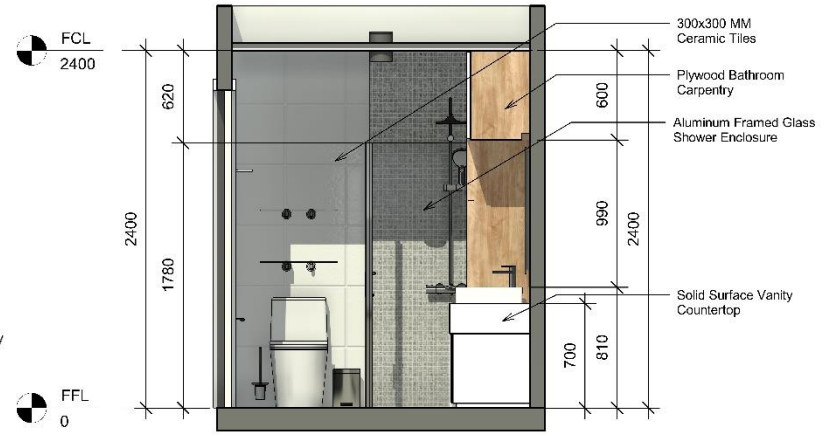

Since the users of the place will be most likely a family, several carpentry are also fixed in the bathroom to maximize the usage of the room and serves as additional storage for things that may or may not involve with bathroom chores.

A bathroom is one of the most used space in a living space and thus should be well-designed to the convenience of the user.
